WISHBONE SIDE TABLE

ITEM #R24963

The legend of wishbones providing good luck goes back as far as 700 AD. People believed that a bird was an oracle of the future and possession of a wish bone provided good luck. Inspired by a wishbone shape, this cast iron table is finished in a beautiful light bronze, with a perfectly proportioned black and white marble top in a honed finish. The delicate clean lines and rich finishes allow this table to work equally well in rooms that are casual or dressy, modern or traditional. Because of the natural material, vein patterns will vary from piece to piece.
